

From the past few months, businesses are not operational throughout the world, including grooming salons. Men are supposed to cut their hair and style their beard at home and still wish to have the same neat look. Most men prefer to do it at home themselves instead and save their time to go to the salon, book an appointment, and wait for somebody to fix their hair. In the past few years, many hair cutting devices and trimmers have been designed, some of them have flopped, some of them flourished, some of them were too pricey, some didn't give the amount of preciseness one was looking for so after a lot of research we came across this product which might hit the bull's eye!

•Super sharp blades for neatness:

Japan has excelled in the field of metallurgical objects, from fine-edged kitchen knives to extraordinarily razor blades. The Japanese have outshone through them all. The same is with this Babyliss pro clipper, which has precisely engineered Japanese steel blades with a super sharp v cutting angle, which helps to provide an extended-lasting fine cut even through the thickest of hair!

This hair cutter includes six comb guides that fit easily and can't cut hair ranging from 3mm to 19 mm depending upon the attachment comb's size.

We may have seen many appliances with an unattractive outer shell made of plastic, which may not be a durable material. However, some of the fantastic trimmers are still using these, which expose them to a high risk of getting damaged earlier.

In this product's circumstance, this hair tool has all-metal housing that provides durability and looks attractive too! One may grab this sleek device and effortlessly use it to trim your beard or hair as its firm round handle makes it easy to use.

The upper part of the device is smooth, and there will be no room for germs and dead skin to stick on it, and if some of it does, it can be easily cleaned using the brush that is provided with the trimmer.

Like every other pivot motor, it also functions the same as a magnetic motor. But, Babyliss pro clipper's pivot motor has two built-in electromagnets, and this is the reason why this hair clipper provides greater torque, greater speed, and easily cut through long thick hair. Expected from a professional tool at a barber's shop due to which you will be able to do it at home as well!
